MARKETDULL AND NARROW

Violent Rebound in Metropolitan Helped the Opening.

PRICES LATER UNSETTLED

Professionals Began to Cover Short Contracts, but Selling Was Resumed on Appearance of the Bank Statement.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 18.—To-day's stock market was but a dull and narrow affair, and the net changes are generally insignificant. A violent rebound at the opening in Metropolitan Street Railway helped to tone for a while. The spasmodic rise in the stock proved to be due for or while to cover at the market and the high price was maintained for only an instant. The renowed needless of the stock and the sheep rices and turned the trend ownward Reading droped about 2 points before support was forthcoming. The selling of the stock was based upon a supposition that the anthracite coal combination will be the next object of legal process under the anti-trust law by the government. Other members of the anthracite group were not notably affected. The professional traders who made up the market commenced to cover their short contracts before the bank statement appeared, but the selling was renewed on the publication of the statement. The disappointing item was that of the average loans, which showed an increase of 2,234,-300, whereas the severe liquidation of the week had given rise to hopes of a large loan reduction. The showing is complicated by the merger of two banks and an increase is about as expected, and the surplus reserve was correspondingly benefited. The market railled and closed steady and very dull.

Canadian Pacific and Missouri Pacific enjoyed some special benefit from good reports of gross earnings for the second week in April.

The decision expected on Monday on the application for a stay pending the appear of the Northern Securities as pause in operations for the runder a continued demand for malttance, but money was reported earer in Loudon.

The of Germany and the large oversubscriptions reported for the new German loan were regarded as gratifying evidences of the abundance of funds at intercenter.

What the New York Afternoon Papers Say About Yesterday's Trading.

What the New York Afternoon Papers Say About Yesterday's Trading.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, April 18.—The Evening
Post in its review says: To-day's bank statement was negative in character, and in most regards was pretty much what had been expected. The smallness of the gain in cash reserves, as compared with yesterday's forecasts, was the chief cause of disappointment. It is perhaps half a million less than the known movement of currency indicated. This has been the rather uniform tendency of the recent statements—conceivably because of a gradual drawing in of cash by some of the trust companies. Whether these companies have or have not begun in any considerable degree the work of laying aside their stipulated five per cent. reserve for the first of June, they ought to be beginning it. The perpexity of the unawillingness of the companies to give out weekty as bench, and the continuence will owner to the companies to give out weekty as bench, and the proper and continuence of the trust of the contrust, then the weekly money situation ton be seen oly dimly.

The return was not very well received on the Stock Exchange, thoukh it had no particular effect on prices. Up to the time when it was published, stocks had been fluctuating uncertainly back and forth, with no uniformity of movement.
They yielded slightly when the statement was made public, but in the main recovered this incidental loss before the close.

My. Schiff's calm view of the situation, coming as it did from a Northern Securities director, was doubtless of some service in dissipating this nonsense. The root of such present evil as exists is beyond any question our excessive stock promotions. Insofar as the markets have really suffered, since the Securities de cision, they have done so because they were already undermined by the processes of which the Northern merger was a type. It is, however, a fruitless, as well as thankless, task to merely distribute blame for the orrors of the past. What most people vish as the market

The break in the anthracite coal stocks had a dampening effect upon specuative sentiment, and was followed by a contraction in activity and a reaction in prices throughout the genera list.

WALL STREET GOSSIP

A Rally in Metropolitan-Good Buying in the Reading Issues.

in the Reading Issues.
(Special to The Times-bispatch.)

NEW YORK, April 18.—The opening on the Stock Exchange was generally firm in view of the easy rally after the decline of the previous afternoon and the higher range of prices from London. The professional element was actively bullish, and there seemed to be a moderate supply of commission house orders, although these were not an important factor.

METROPOLITAN'S RALLY:
The rapid raily of Metropolitan at the opening was based on the idea that the decline of the previous day had been to some extent the result of a raid. The consistent assurance of people who ought to know that nothing could be disclosed affecting the earning capacity of the property were beginning to have effect.

CANADIAN PACIFIC:
Canadian Pacific was strong on the advance in London. The Montreal pool seemed to have secured an important foreign following.

BALTIMORE & OHIO:
Philadelphia houses reported buying orders in the soft coal stocks, and especially Baltimore and Ohio.
AMALGAMATED COPPER:

The firm in Amalgamated Copper was a feature of the day's trading. It is probable that London has been reasured by the rocent reaction and is now beginning to take kindly to the idea that the metal is selling at a reasonable pdice and does not represent any special manipulation.

The market hardly liked the increase in loans as shown in the bank statement, and took it as indicating that the purchases which checked the market on Monday were not of an investment character. The floor traders seemed to be taking profits over the end of the week, and this accounted for a very moderate tendency to ease off in the late trading.

BANK STATEMENT:
The increase of $2,427.800 in loans, shown in the bank statement, was not expected, and may be due to a transfer of loans from Europe to this side.
The increase of $2,458.1200 in reserve held is only about half the gain indicated by the preliminary estimate.
The increase of $2,459.400 in deposits is $2,549.600 less than the sum of the increase in loans and cash, which is an unusually bad balance.
The reserve required is $514.850 more than last week, which, deducted from the gain in cash, makes the increase in surplus $2.90,350.
The surplus is now $5,007.650, compared with $3,675.50 in 1907, and Dius $2.290,350.

The surplus is now $8.007,650, compared with $8,678,650 in 1902; $14,922,100 in 1901, and $14,594,350 in 1900.
The surplus not counting reserve against nited tates deposits is $15,321,250.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of 30% points, ruled steady and fairly netter for a time and then commenced to decline under realizing. The early improvement was attributed to a much better class of cables than called for by the closing of the New York market yesterday. The demand the local market was mainly movement instituted by parties who had profits and were disposed to secure them in view of the large movement. Within less than an hour the net rise had been reduced to 10% points. The new cropmonths were comporatively neglected, with a bearish undertone on favorable weather conditions and glowing crop accounts. The local contingent has been inclined to sell in a conservative way on the large movement. The volume of business continues small and mainly confined to the operations of parties aiready interested.
